Report on One Day Workshop on 25-10-2025

The One-Day Workshop, "Project Life Cycle – From Requirements Gathering to Project Delivery," conducted on Saturday, October 25, 2025, for IV B.Tech (CSE) – I Semester students, was highly successful.

The session, led by Mr. Naveen Koppala (Accenture), effectively bridged the gap between theoretical concepts and real-world application. Mr. Koppala's extensive industry experience allowed him to relate the concepts students have theoretically studied—such as the phases of the Software Development Life Cycle (SDLC) and the principles of Agile and Scrum—with a practical approach.

A key highlight was the integration of Case Studies to illustrate the practical application and challenges within each SDLC phase (Requirements, Design, Development, Testing, and Deployment). This method helped students significantly improve their understanding of how the software development process actually unfolds in a professional setting.

The workshop's emphasis on the structured flow of software development, coupled with industry insights, is anticipated to be extremely useful for students.

CIRCULAR

This is to inform all students of IV B.Tech (CSE) – I Semester that a One Day workshop titled "Project Life Cycle – From Requirements Gathering to Project Delivery" will be conducted Saturday, 25th October 2025.

The workshop will be led by Mr. Naveen Koppala, a seasoned software professional with over 11 years of industry experience, currently working at Accenture.

The workshop will cover the following key topics:
1. Introduction to IT Projects and Stakeholders
2. SDLC Phases – Requirements, Design, Development, Testing, and Deployment
3. The Role of QA in Each Phase with Case Studies
4. Introduction to Agile and Scrum
5. Q&A and Industry Insights

This workshop will be highly beneficial for IV B.Tech students currently engaged in their main project, as well as III B.Tech students who will be undertaking their mini project during the upcoming semester break
