

REPORT ON NARCOTIC AWARENESS PROGRAM AT JNTUH

DATE: 3RD JUNE 2023

LOCATION: JNTUH, HYD.

TOTAL PARTICIPANTS :- 10

Introduction:

The Narcotic Awareness Program held at Jawaharlal Nehru Technological University Hyderabad (JNTUH) was a significant initiative aimed at raising awareness about the dangers of narcotics and promoting a drug-free campus environment. The program took place on 3RD June.

Objectives:

The primary objectives of the Narcotic Awareness Program were as follows:

1. Education: To educate students and faculty members about the harmful effects of narcotics on individual health, relationships, and society as a whole.
2. Prevention: To highlight preventive measures and strategies that can be adopted to stay away from drug abuse and addiction.
3. Awareness: To create a sense of awareness and responsibility among the JNTUH community in order to curb the spread of drug-related issues.

Program Highlights:

The Narcotic Awareness Program featured a range of activities and sessions designed to engage participants and convey essential information:

1. Expert Talks: Renowned experts in the field of drug rehabilitation and addiction psychology delivered informative talks on the various aspects of narcotics, addiction, and recovery. These sessions provided valuable insights into the physiological and psychological effects of drug abuse.
2. Personal Stories: Recovering addicts shared their personal stories of battling addiction, offering a real-world perspective on the challenges and triumphs of overcoming substance abuse. These narratives inspired empathy and understanding among the audience.
3. Interactive Workshops: Practical workshops were conducted to teach attendees about stress management, coping strategies, and effective communication skills. These skills are crucial for maintaining mental well-being and preventing the adoption of harmful habits.
4. Awareness Campaigns: Visual aids, posters, and multimedia presentations were used to display statistics, facts, and case studies related to narcotics. These campaigns helped in illustrating the severity of the issue and the importance of collective action.

CONCLUSION

The Narcotic Awareness Program at JNTUH was a well-organized and impactful initiative that successfully educated, inspired, and mobilized the university community against the perils of narcotics. By raising awareness, sharing knowledge, and fostering a sense of responsibility, the program contributed to the creation of a safer and healthier campus environment.
